

The Francis Family Foundation

BRIGHTER FUTURES
FOR ALL GENERATIONS

Introduction. Since 1913, when Parker Browne Francis II first launched the Oxygen Gas Company in Kansas City, Missouri, the Francis family has continued to be an inspirational and influential force in the Kansas City metropolitan area. In 1951, as the company grew and developed into a major national manufacturer and supplier of industrial and medical gases, Parker B. Francis II established a foundation bearing his name to help promote education and research in the fields of anesthesiology and related pulmonary sciences. Parker B. Francis III also established a foundation to fund his interests in education, and arts and culture. Since the two foundations merged in 1989 to become the Francis Family Foundation, the pattern of grantmaking made today still reflects the interests of the founding donors. For more information about the history of the Francis Family Foundation, please visit www.francisfoundation.org.

Today, thanks to the vision of Parker B. Francis and his son John B. Francis, the Francis Family Foundation celebrates 58 years of philanthropy, including the funding of the Parker B. Francis Pulmonary Fellowship Program and support of educational and arts programs geographically located within the greater Kansas City metropolitan area. It is in the context of this history that the 2008 Annual Report honors the accomplishments of more than 200 grants representing a social investment of more than $6.1 million. While John B. Francis and his wife Mary Harris Francis are both deceased, stewardship of the Foundation was passed to their children – Ann F. Barhoum, David V. Francis, J. Scott Francis and Susan Neves – and four non-family Board members – Gregory Glore, Mary Lou Jaramillo, Charles Schellhorn and Katie Wendel. Susan Neves has since retired from the Board. In 2008, the Foundation Board of Directors created an updated Strategic Plan, which identified three major funding priorities: Pulmonary Research, Lifelong Learning and Arts & Culture.

Parker B. Francis Pulmonary Fellowship Program. In 1975, John Byers Francis created the Pulmonary Fellowship program in honor of his father, Parker B. Francis II. Since then, the Foundation has contributed more than $50 million in support of more than 750 Fellows. In 2008, Fellowship grants exceeded $2.3 million in support of 48 Fellows. For more information, visit www.francisfellowships.org.

Lifelong Learning. In 2008, the Foundation invested more than $1 million in Lifelong Learning grants under the 2008-2012 Strategic Plan. Six grants supported early childhood development efforts in the metro area with an emphasis on professional development for providers and support for advocacy efforts. Examples include support for the Francis Resource Center and the Francis Institute for Child and Youth Development (professional development); and, the Partnership for Children and the Kansas Coalition for School Readiness (advocacy) – two important players in the movement to expand government support for early education initiatives.

Parents are the key to a child’s early development. To strengthen their capacity, the Foundation approved funding for seven parent initiative grants, which will help increase school readiness. These programs focus primarily on literacy development and verbal communication in children from birth to age five. Several also take a more comprehensive view of early childhood development with literacy and communication as part of several core training components. The Foundation expects these efforts to lay the groundwork for children’s success in school, an important benchmark for the community.

Arts & Culture. As the year 2008 came to an end, the Foundation Board of Directors approved more than $900,000 through 58 new grants to support arts and culture organizations and programs in the Kansas City metropolitan area. Total 2008 investments in arts and culture, including multi-year commitments approved in prior years, exceeded the $1-million mark.

Grant Highlights. The Foundation continues to support the many arts and culture institutions that “anchor” a strong and vibrant quality of life in Kansas City. At the same time, through our small arts program, the Foundation seeds both new and emergent organizations, and expands access for children and underserved populations throughout the community. The Foundation also invests in strategies that strengthen the role of arts in the K-12 education process. Early efforts include the expansion of Kansas City Young Audiences' Arts Partners program. Four new school districts are targeted in the first phase of the expansion; three with Foundation funds and a fourth through the Sosland Foundation. Advocacy efforts of the Missouri Alliance for Arts Education are also being investigated. Strengthening professional development strategies for teachers and teaching artists, as well as building a stronger base of public support for arts and education generally are the early targets of this investment.

Our Vision. The Francis Family Foundation envisions current and future generations of well-rounded individuals who are creative, lifelong learners, striving to achieve their fullest potential within their communities.

Our Values. The Francis Family Foundation believes in:

- Excellence – We are committed to standards of excellence in our operations and grant making activities.
- Accessibility – We believe all members of our communities should have the opportunity to participate fully in educational, cultural and social activities, and believe we should seek ways to improve access to these activities to individuals and families of all ages, religions, races, ethnicities, financial abilities and physical and mental abilities.
- Diversity and Inclusiveness – We believe in the rich diversity of the greater Kansas City area, and promote inclusiveness in the way we work and in our grant making activities. We seek to celebrate our common experiences and concerns through our grants.
- Community – We embrace and promote a strong sense of community and seek opportunities with great potential for strengthening community life and the urban fabric.
- Innovation and Creativity – We value the creative process among people of all ages and backgrounds, and we encourage excellence and innovation in our grant making activities.
- Lifelong Learning – We promote lifelong learning as a key factor in developing active, well-rounded and contributing individuals in our communities.
- Collaboration – We encourage and model collaboration among funders and community organizations.
- Integrity and Sustainability – We maintain and promote fiscal and program integrity in our operations and grant making activities to ensure the sustainability of organizations that enrich community life.
- Planning and Evaluation – We believe in planning and evaluation as critical methods to assess the effectiveness of our grant making so we can make a difference.

For the 30 children in Phoenix Family's Summer Program at Parvin Estates, this summer was a little different from previous years'. This year they got creative, thanks to Phoenix Family's partnership with Chameleon Arts and the Francis Family Foundation.

The seven-week program began with an introduction to drumming circles, teaching the children simple rhythms and dances, and play with call and response percussion games. Each activity was geared towards building on the previous day's activities, allowing each child to become comfortable with expressing him/herself through creative expression.

"If I told you to draw a picture that reflects who you are, most of us would be intimidated," says Hugh Merrill, Executive Director of Chameleon Arts. "But if I told you to trace your hand and write in it, expressing yourself becomes less intimidating." The Parvin Summer Arts Program was led by a team of four artists, who incorporated life and academic skills into their activities.

The program culminated with a community picnic and an artistic presentation to the Parvin Estates Board of Directors.

$30,000

More than 1,000 students, teachers, parents, school administrators, artists, and arts administrators gathered March 10, 2009 in Jefferson City to educate legislators and citizens on the importance of supporting fine arts education in the state's public schools. This event also coincided with the celebration of Music In Our Schools Month and Youth Art Month.

Eighteen student groups from across the state performed at the Capitol Building, showcasing vocal and instrumental music, dance and drama programs in Missouri's public schools. Works of 368 student artists, representing 98 schools in 40 counties were also on exhibit in the Capitol as part of Missouri's Youth Art Month. These enthusiastic young advocates for arts education met with leaders in the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education and the staff of Governor Nixon. In addition, they presented an advocacy orientation for all attendees of Fine Arts Education Day. All 197 elected Senators and Representatives received office visits during the day from students, teachers and parents. Representative Bob Dixon presented a House Proclamation honoring the arts education advocacy efforts of the students.
